Panther Squad Hurt by Injuries

Who would believe that a team that started out by winning its first five games, would end up losing its next four games? Not always does a team's win-loss record tell the story on how a team did that year. Granted, the Panthers ended their season with a 5-4 win-loss record which placed them forth in MPL. The Panthers were able to hold together with no injuries through the first five games, but then against Capuchino everything seemed to fall apart for the Panthers. So did quarterback Mike Glafkides's knee, when a Capuchino lineman came in on a late shot after Mike had thrown the ball downfield. After the loss of Mike Glafkides, the Panthers had to look for a new leader with all-C.C.S. Mike Giron taking over the chores. With Lawson, Steil, Mahlstedt, and Kolesnikow in the backfield and Mennis, Murry, Gueble, and Poliakoff on the line, the Panthers had a very explosive offense. When it came time for the defense to take over, it's no wonder why the opponents always left the field bruised or completely exhausted, as their efforts were held to minus yardage. The defense was lead by cornerbacks Tim Sullivan, Erol Akchurin, Paul Kolesnikow, and Jim Venturino. With a punishing line in Pete Fena, Mike Rogers, Mike Giron, and Don Vilotti, no wonder the quarterbacks had second thoughts on passing.

Freshman Football

The Frosh team had a very good season, ending with a 4-2 win loss record, putting them in a tie for second place. The offense was led by Byron Hawkins, John Falk, Robin Lau, Jim Stewart, D. Williams, and Larry Hawkins. Dan Ringer, John Falk, Mike Wornick, Dan Williams, and Byron Hawkins pushed for the defense.

Frosh-Soph Football

This year's Frosh-Soph team has increased their ability to have a winning season. Both their improvement in physical ability and mental attitude shows reason to believe that they can pull off a winning season next year. Although they did not have a great record (1-5-0), their ability to score points toward the final seconds of their games definitely shows talent. Many of this year's sophomores, because of their individual ability, will be starting varsity next year.

This year's squad has been one of the best teams to have ever come out of Burlingame High. With the shooting ability of Erol Akchurin and Paul Kolesnikow on top, and the rebounding as well as shooting power of Jack Ferrari, Scott Roberts, and Mark Mackenhausen underneath, the Panthers placed third in county standings. Mike Giron and Pete Monchek gave tremendous help for the Panthers in coming off the bench.

After months of hard work, Panther Tracks 1974 is finally finished. It would not have been possible to produce this book without the help of some very concerned, hard-working people who gave their everything to the yearbook staff. The Panther Tracks staff would like to take the time to say thank you to the following people:

Mr. Glenn Morgan, our advisor, who gave freely of his time and patience to help us produce this book.

Mr. Richard George, the representative from Josten's/American, who advised us and gave us some wonderful ideas.

Kee Coleman and Mr. Bill Gibson, who photographed all the seniors and took many of the candid's appearing in the book.

Barry Bettman, Bill Herrmann, and Kim Byrne, who spent hours in the darkroom developing all the pictures.

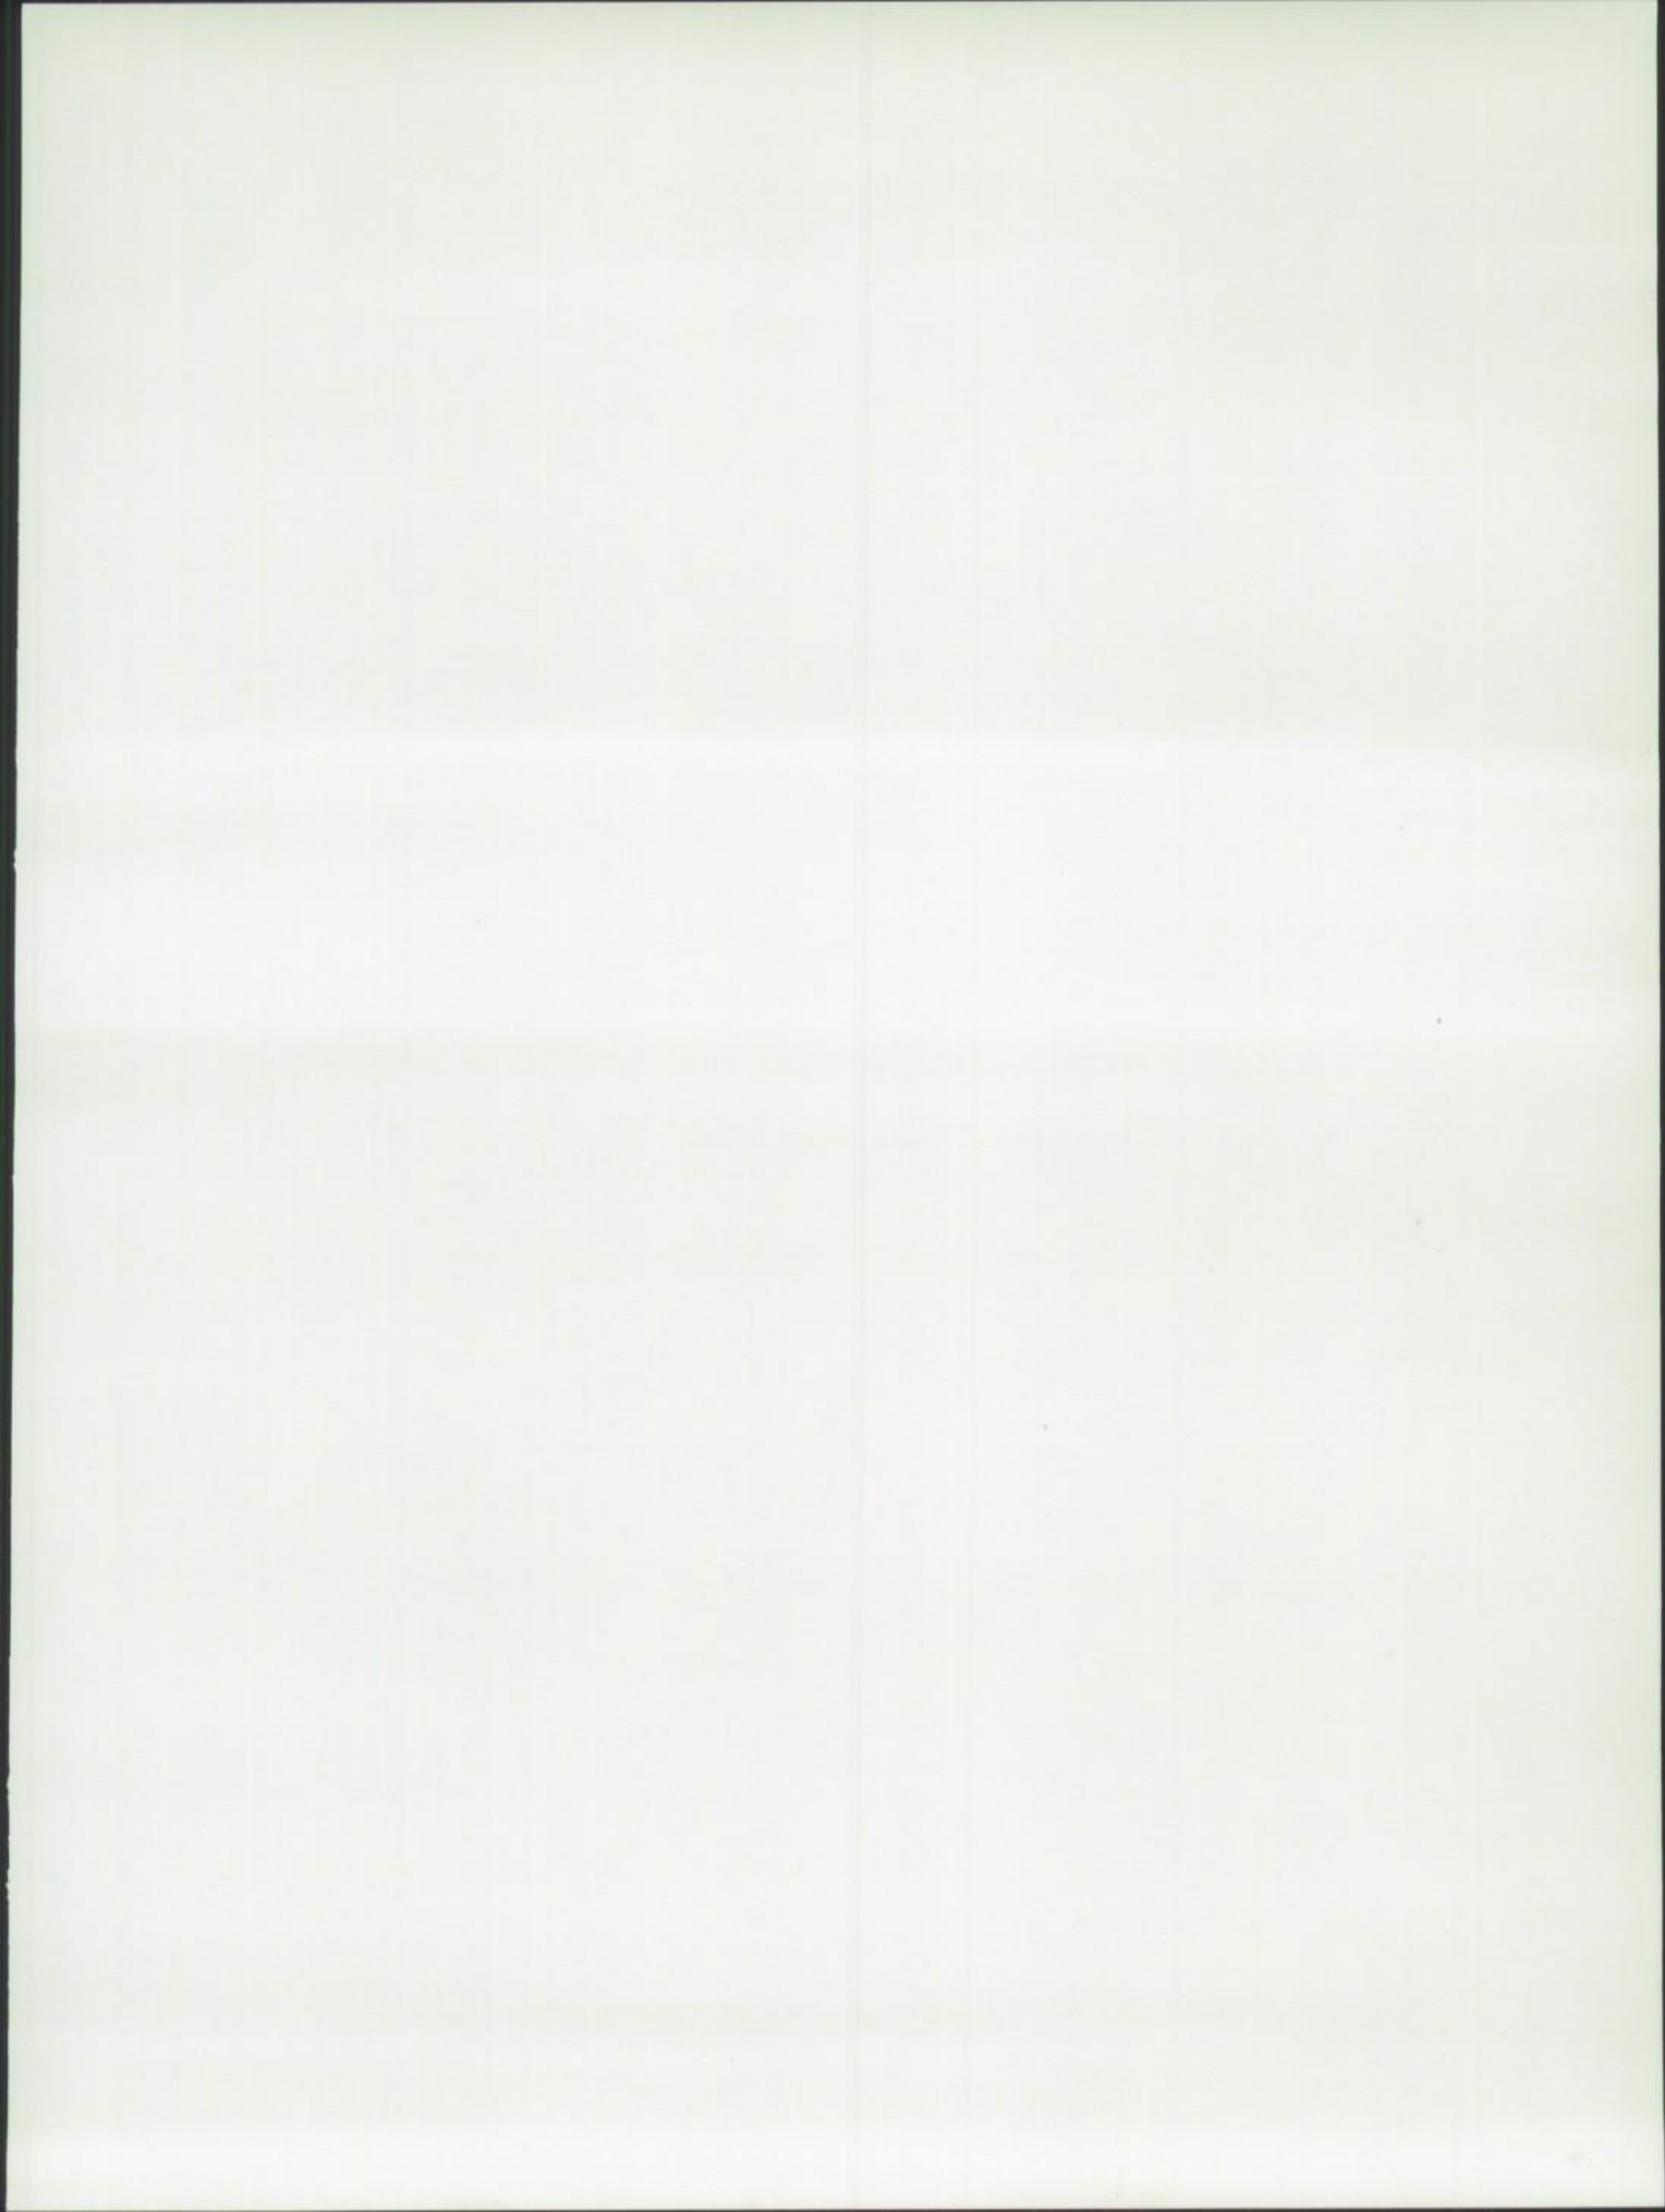

The faculty and administration of BHS who gave us their utmost cooperation.

Mrs. James Hyde, who patiently typed the index and supplement.

Our veteran staff members Carla, Richard, Rusty, Cheryl, and Wendi who helped pull the book together and helped meet all the deadlines.

50 Years At Burlingame High . . .

The land for Burlingame High School was purchased in March, 1922 and the main building was completed in July, 1923 as a branch of San Mateo High School. Four hundred and nineteen students attended the school the first year that it was open. In 1928, Burlingame High became an independent school. The first gymnasium was completed in 1928. The school operated for over twenty years after that without any major changes or additions. In 1949 the music and shop buildings were built, and the cafeteria multi-purpose building and the homemaking building were built in 1958. By this time the old gym was no longer adequate for Burlingame High School functions. A new and modern gym and physical education activities building was completed in October 1960. In 1962, a larger, modern library was built in the southwest wing. Throughout these past years the students of Burlingame High School have been fortunate in having a very modern, adequate, and well-kept school. Today, 1,342 students attend classes at Burlingame High School.

The Associated Girl Students (AGS), Associated Boy Students (now Block "B") and French Club have been at Burlingame a long time. The Mummers Club was established to present plays and to exchange plays with dramatic clubs of other schools. AGS activities have always involved all the students at BHS. AGS used to host a dinner for the football players and always gave a dance in the spring. Today, the girls continue to sponsor the traditional farewell tea for senior girls and their mothers. The yearbook and school related material used to be printed in the San Mateo High School print shop (picture to the left). Art Commission provides posters, banners and any other art work for the school.

In 1942, there were scrap metal, book and fat drives. During World War II, Burlingame High sold War Bonds to equal the price of an air force fighter plane and the plane was named for the school.

Some students feel that the only reason to go to high school is to become a senior. As a senior, the student is considered 'superior'. This is what the seniors tell the other classes during Spirit Week. In the 20's and 30's seniors had sweaters with a B (for Burlingame) and an S (for senior) with the graduating year next to it. Students used to ride to football games in Palo Alto, San Jose and Redwood City on the S.P. train for 35¢ roundtrip.

Field Day - 1927

At Burlingame High, girls have always taken part in sports. In the 1960's, the defunct Girls' Athletic Association (GAA) was re-established, giving girls with an interest in sport and sports activities an opportunity to experience a more advanced level of skill instruction and competition than those normally found in a regular physical education class. GAA offers tennis, hockey, synchronized swimming, gymnastics, basketball, volley-ball, badminton, flag football and softball, but not the speedball of the 20's. The teams compete with those of other schools, although the famed annual field days have not been revived. On those occasions, girls' teams from the Peninsula Athletic League (PAL) schools competed fiercely for championships by dividing the day with noon time vaudeville acts and a barbecue. In regular PE classes, girls exercise and participate in sports such as archery. The 1920 style swim suits were used through the fifties.

Little Big Game

The traditional Little-Big Football Game between San Mateo and Burlingame is held on Thanksgiving Day. The Grid Classic Dance is the kick-off for manifestations of Spirit Week. It is held the week-end before the game and ruled by the Grid Queen and her Court of Princesses. The game is attended by students, faculty, alumni and loyal local citizens. Several years saw firemen called out to hose the football field clean of rioters. (In 1935, the game was cancelled because of pre-game rioting.) San Mateo was favored by 40 points in the first LBG when Burlingame won 7 to 6 in a wildly cheered upset. In the 46 games played between the two rivals Burlingame has won 25 times and San Mateo 17 times. Burlingame has tied four times. The three days before Thanksgiving are called Spirit Week with contests between the four classes in hall decoration and yelling power, with the spirit trophy being awarded the winning class.

Lunchtime has always been more active than restful for most students although there has always been a relaxed group who stay at school to eat their lunch on the front steps. When the cafeteria was located in the north-west corner of the Main Building, the front steps were the "in" place to Brown bag it". The south courtyard and the parking lot took their place when the new cafeteria was opened. In these areas students built human pyramids and sometimes encountered Dean of Boys, now Mr. Victor Mangini.

Other students have lunchea on Burlingame Ave (up the Ave.). In the 40's, Bennett's Lunch Counter did a thriving business with their Dis-Dat Sandwich. The Miller Drug Balcony was also popular in that era. In '35, The Greeks was the place to go. Students from other years remember Vincent's, the Hasty Tasty (now Fling's) and Kibby's Drive-In. After lunch many went to Wollmer's Music Store to listen to records. Walking back to school students have chewed on Milky Way bars and often have played for yo-yo's as a craze for then waxed and waned. Back at school, students could buy supplies at the Student Co-Op (the present book room). A student store was revived in 1972, being run by the Burlingame Investment Club, whose advisor is in the Business Department. The student store is now located in a closet next to the attendance office.

Burlingame mascots and the band worked together promoting spirit at the football games. The mascots are named Peter Panther and Patty Panther. Burlingame with "Hearts and Voices" was the school song from 1927 until the late 1950's when it was supplanted by "Alma Mater" sung to the tune of the Cornell University song. The band participates in music festivals and presents spring and Christmas concerts and precision marching at football games. The band has been invited to perform at the State Capitol and has appeared on local TV. Groups of band members have been invited to perform at California Music Educators Association Conference (CMEA) in Santa Barbara (as pictured), Las Vegas and San Diego. In addition to the complete band a smaller group of members form a pep band which plays at rallies and provides spirit for basketball and football games.

Many other school organizations have used the Burlingame stage other than Drama classes. The English Department used to present small one-act Shakespearean plays and French, Spanish and Latin clubs would put shows on in their language. The annual talent show put on by the students later became the Senior Assembly and then evolved into the Senior Show which was laid to rest in 1972. The Drama classes have always presented term plays (two a year) and still have numerous one-act plays in between. Due to the simplicity of the stage, the stage sets have to be very creative. Drama students have always had lots of spirit and worked very hard. It is a tradition for the actresses and actors to write their names on the walls in the wings of the stage.

A Weekend of Fun, Spirit and . . .

The reunion opened on November 22, 1973 with the annual Little-Big Game between San Mateo and Burlingame being played in a downpour on a mushy, slosky field. Burlingame lost 14-7. Despite the weather conditions the Burlingame team performed admirably and the band played on.

The Burlingame community was involved in the reunion to a great extent. One attention-getting device was the huge banner that hung for two weeks on Burlingame Avenue. When a new savings and loan opened in 1973, they honored Burlingame High's anniversary as a way to become involved in the community.

For many alumni Friday, November 23rd was filled with memories reliving their own high school days at Burlingame. Alumni visited class rooms and if they wanted to, they looked through registers which held the names and addresses of each graduating class. The Art Department held a pottery sale and the Associated Girl Students were selling pennants of Burlingame High. During the afternoon, alumni attended a concert given by the band and choir in the auditorium with "Hearts and Voices" premiering afterward. At 3 p.m. there was a reception for all teachers in the cafeteria. Among the teachers present were Ed Hevey, Florence Gulla, Eugene Brose, Elmer Young, Maxine Orozco Lee.

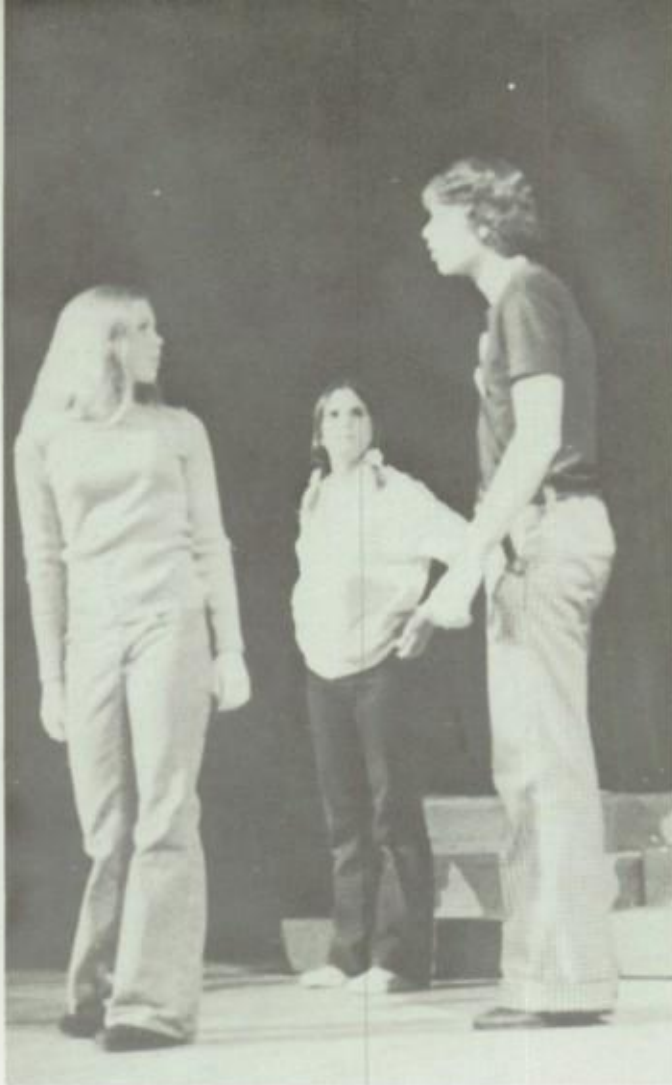

Alumni registration was held in the girls' gym.

A Nostalgic Salute to Burlingame High School

On Friday in the auditorium, students and friends of Burlingame High School presented a play titled "Hearts and Voices." Written by Richard Morris, class of '42, the play outlined some of the various Burlingame fads since its opening fifty years ago. Comprised of a cast of fifteen boys and girls attired in red sweaters and white pants or skirts, the group presented an hour long show of nostalgia. The stage sets consisted of three sets of stairs and a ladder, yet were able to interpret the feeling of various locales of the show. Burlingame Avenue, the front steps, the main hall, and lawn all were well depicted with a minimum of props. The show's theme was that no matter which era Burlingame had gone through, high school students of any period have similarities. Among recollections mentioned were the S.P. train and no soap in the boys' shower. The show included about fifteen minutes of music and dance starting with the Charleston, and including the Camel Walk, Trucking, the Jerk, the Swim and a number of other dances popular during Burlingame's lifetime. The title of the play came from the song "Burlingame with Hearts and Voices."

Joan Selby Bardet went through all of the Burlingame "B" newspapers and ended up with 110 pages of notes which were sent to Richard Morris to write the play. Before the play Dr. Richard Williams, Principal, presented the Alumni of the Year award to Bill Bardet and Reg Moorby. Joan Selby Bardet, Betty Johnson Winters and Blanche Dibelka Duffey each received an award in appreciation of their leadership and participation in the 50th Anniversary reunion. Following the award presentation the band and choir each gave a concert.

After an activity-filled Friday afternoon, many alumni from the Decade II attended a cocktail party at the Airport Marina Hotel. To accommodate their numbers, Burlingame High School 50th Anniversary had three floors of rooms reserved. Since the gathering was one of the smallest that weekend, many people had the opportunity to socialize with friends whom they otherwise would not have been able to see. A four-piece band provided music for the evening. The night provided an opportunity to converse, laugh, and recall shared high school memories and friendships.

After a night of talk and laughter many people attended brunch buffet at nine on Saturday morning with several alumni nearly hoarse from reminiscing the previous evening. The brunch was well attended by the alumni who were staying at the hotel, residents of the area, and those who were going to attend the Stanford-Cal Big Game via a chartered bus.

50th Reunion Concludes With 5,000

On Saturday evening, the reunion came to its climax with a dinner dance held at the San Mateo County Fairgrounds. The 50 graduating classes at Burlingame were split up into five decades. Decade I included the classes from 1923 to 1934. Graduates from 1935 to 1944 made up Decade II, with alumni from 1945 to 1954 being Decade III. Decade IV encompassed those graduates from 1955 to 1964, with Decade V extending from 1965-1973.

Decade I had the largest percentage of alumni attending of all the decades, and so it took over the second largest building at the Fairgrounds. The group chose redwood trees as their decoration. A sparkling mirrored ball was hung over the dance floor and on the walls hung yearbook pictures. Displayed prominently down the center aisle were enlarged photographs from Burlingame of that era. Included among them was an early photo of Burlingame High School after it had been built on a former dairy pasture in 1923.

Red and white paper balls hung from the ceiling in Decade II's room and flower arrangements consisted of red and white carnations intermingled with magnolia leaves and redwood branches. There were also red and white balloons on the walls. Some of the men from the class of '36 wore hats featuring white dots on a red background. There was lots of dancing and conversation, with many reintroductions between friends who had not seen each other since graduation.

The decor in the Decade III section reminded the graduates of activities that took place before they graduated. Alumni recalled Peachy-pegs, Coffee Dan's, the Bop, Dunes Beach, Blimp's, the Jitterbug and convertibles by seeing banner size posters on the walls. Pine trees were placed around the room and the tables featured carnations and ferns. Balloons of all colors hung in net bags from the ceiling of the dance floor.

Over the dance floor of Decade IV were strung streamers forming a tent. Again people were reminded of the Bop, Cruisin', and Heap of the Week by wall posters. Pictures on the walls included graduates' activities from each Decade IV's classes.

The Toshombe Band played for Decade V's festivities. Their group had the smallest turnout of the decades, yet their spirit was unhindered. Large paper flowers in the form of columns and small Burlingame Panthers covered the walls. Again, yearbook pictures were in abundance. Typical conversations included "Are you married yet."

One interesting thing about the dinner-dance was that alumni circulated not only within their own decade's hall but roamed from "decade to decade." Each decade had long tables, lots of food, and a band that played music of that era. All the female committee members wore chrysanthemum corsages with a red "B" in the center.

Many people enjoyed the dancing in the Decade IV hall, while this group in Decade II decided to converse, eat, and relax.

Many teachers were on hand circulating around the decades in which they taught.

Early in the evening the band and pom-pom girls marched through each decade spilling spirit on the whole event as shown in photo at Right.

With each dinner ticket purchased, the buyer received a "special edition" one-half liter wine decanter with the 50th Anniversary emblem stamped on it in red and gold. The emblem is shown to the right.

Surrounding photographs show a number of alumni who reminisced and danced to music that ranged from Ragtime to Rock.

Richard-
 What a year!!
 Thanks for everything.
 Anyone who does worse than me (at times) in chemistry, am (late of course) and tolerates my laughing etc has to be something special.
 Even if the rest of the world doesn't cooperate. What ever happens this summer, don't crash and don't lose the faith (if chem. hasn't already killed it). You can only go up ↑↑↑↑↑↑↑↑↑↑
 — Drink anything but H₂O to cope. — Watch out for females...
 Love,
 Jackie

Rich,
 Now that I've signed every one of my pictures
 in this book and had paid for it in pennies say - Enjoy - Have Success - FUN - HAPPINES -
 Good Luck -

To the Pepsi-Cola heirs, well lick despite the fact that you think you're superior to all of us "flunkys" - it's been fun to work with you (and I can't believe I actually mean that.) Best wishes for next year's book and really, if you ever get in a jam: need some help in the photography dept. → don't your dare ask me.

Larry Byrne

Best wishes to a fine young man,
Lore Kott

Hi Rich
It's been great seeing you in U.S. & Frig. Next years year book will be great with me as the business mgr.
We will go broke
Bill McLean

Rich,
It was nice meeting you and even though we didn't get to talk that much. This year it was nice having you "around". Have a good summer and wish you luck and happiness
always.
Best wishes, Larry

Dear Rick,
I've really had fun this year, all the things we did, good classes, fun friends, you really are a neat person, and a bundle of fun and surprises! One more year left and then we are on our own in the great chaotic mess! Take care Rick, and I'll see you next year - I hope, if I survive my exams! All my love Kate.

Rick -
I very much enjoyed knowing you here at BHS and wish you great success - have a wonderful summer and my best wishes to you -
Miss Moore

Good Luck to the only yearbook Editor-to-be I know.
